

Beautiful 'cause You Love Me

Girls Aloud

Standing over the basin
I've been washing my face in
    Jet black mascara racing
Down my cheeks till I taste it
    Staring at my reflection
    Every slight imperfection
    Staring back at me
    Naked as a girl can be
And who would have thought that I'd be so content in my own skin
    Right now the whole world could call me ugly
    So what, to you I'm not
    You don't love me cause I'm beautiful
        Oh no
    I'm beautiful cause you love me
    I can't tell you the deepest and darkest of my secrets
        Knowing that you will keep it
        And it won't change our feeling
        Every mark on my body

You know every inch of me
    All the parts that I used to hate you glorify
There's a new meaning to freedom when I'm with you
    Right now the whole world could call me ugly
    So what, to you I'm not
    You don't love me cause I'm beautiful
        Oh no
    I'm beautiful cause you love me
        Beautiful cause you love me
There's a new meaning to freedom when I'm with you
    Right now the whole world could call me ugly
    So what, to you I'm not
    You don't love me cause I'm beautiful
        Oh no
    I'm beautiful cause you love me
        Beautiful cause you love me
