Even If

Sam Concepcion

Even if the sun refused to shine
Even if we lived in different times
Even if the ocean left the sea
There would still be you and meEver since the start of time
You've had my love
(Oh yeah)
Even before I knew your name
I knew your heart
(Oh girl)In the dark of the darkest night
I can see your face
(Oh yeah)
I always knew from the very start
I would find a wayEven if the sun refused to shine
Even if we lived in different times
Even if the ocean left the sea
There would still be you and meEven if the world would disappear
Even if the clouds would shed no tears
Even if tonight was just a dream
There would still be you and meYou've always been and You'll always will be the only one
(Oh yeah)
Until forever the only girl
(Until forever)
I'll ever love
(Ooh)In the cold of a winter's chill
I'll be here to live the part
Oh girl, giving all you need for all time
No matter whatEven if the sun refused to shine
Even if we lived in different times
Even if the ocean left the sea
There would still be you and meEven if the world would disappear
Even if the clouds would shed no tears
Even if tonight was just a dream
There would still be you and meTwo hearts that belong together
From the very start
One love, now and forever
Nothing can tear us apartEven if the sun refused to shine
Even if we lived in different times
Even if the ocean left the sea

There would still be you and meEven if the world would disappear
Even if the clouds would shed no tears
Even if tonight was just a dream
There would still be you and meEven if the sun refused to shine
Even if we lived in different times
Even if the ocean left the sea
There would still be you and meEven if the world would disappear
Even if the clouds would shed no tears
Even if tonight was just a dream
There would still be you and me
