Song For Your Mixtape

Giants At Large

These restless eyes refuse to wake
They're sick of the choices that I make
The ones that end with fingers crossed
Results in missing what I've lost
Forbidden word I refuse to say
I admit I feel you everyday
This stupid game you insist to play
Why do I put up with you anywayWell here's to changeCause I don't wanna write sad songs anymoreYour disappointment won't bring me down
And some might say it killed me but I kind of think it saved me
You destroyed all I created and left me for dead
So I build myself up and now I'm something and you just mean nothing
