Let That Devil Out

Henry Rollins; Rollins Band

man, we got to get this together we got to take control or we're never gonna get out of control all that proper conduct is a con too heavy to bear I've heard tale the truth will set you free sounds good to me
gotta find the sin within and let the game begin
if you want to jump and shout
you gotta let that devil out
you gotta let that devil
let that devil
you know how it is day to day always the same day in, day out, same ol' freak out you got an angel on one shoulder devil on the other
devil on the other
angel says hold back, hold back
devil says attack, attack
angel says hold back, hold back
you want it?
you better get it
you want it?
or forget it
and regret it
and regret it forever
find the sin within
let the game begin
let that devil

oh let it out
oh yeah
hey
mmmm, mmmm, mmmm
yep
so many ripe apples on the low branch of the tree you want to reach up and pull one down and take a bite and while you know your arms are long enough they feel a little too short like life is a little too short a little too short for letting temptation ruin an otherwise riotously good time temptation?
lets put temptation on the unenjoyment line what do you say?
you gotta let the game begin
oh come on
oh yeah
hey
oh yeah
alright
