

A Formal Introduction

The Scene Aesthetic

We are the ones you depend on when you're in rough times
We reply to your comments and read all the lines that you throw at us
Please know how much it all means We build your homes from the places you've known and the sights and the sounds that you're all grown to love
And I want you to know, how much it all means to me Cause we're throwing a party
And it's in your name
To show we appreciate all of the things that you do
It's all cause of you
