

Watching for Comets

Skillet

You burn so bright, I see stars
The way that you laugh, it's like a heavenly choir
You made me feel invincible
When you're with me, I can take on the world You were a comet and I lost it
Watching for comets, will I see you again?
You burn so bright, you burn me up tonight Say my name, I'll be there
I didn't know, you should've said that you cared
It's not too late for broken hearts
Take my hand, make a wish on a star You were a comet and I lost it
Watching for comets, will I see you again?
Everybody needs someone but they can't feel like this
How can I breathe with this burning in my chest?
You were gone so fast, I want you back
You burn so bright, you burn me up tonight
You were a comet and I lost it
(Time to spread my wings and fly)
Watching for comets, will I see you again?
(Time to fly away so high) Now I see you, I'm frozen in time
All your colors burst into life
I don't dare close my eyes
Cause a love like this happens once in a lifetime You were a comet and I lost it
Watching for comets, will I see you again?
Everybody needs someone but they can't feel like this
How can I breathe with this burning in my chest?
You were gone so fast, I want you back
You were a comet and I lost it
(Time to spread my wings and fly)
Watching for comets, will I see you again?
(Time to fly away so high)
You burn so bright, you burn me up tonight
