

In Your Face

Mustard Plug

throw it right back in your face this aint the other place this aint the other time persistence aint no saving grace looking back
'cause you know better than to try me i let it happen
i let you in
to realize what i had im looking forward and i wont let it happen, not again not gonna wait til im dead the time is now and life is short to drown in my regret right now it seems so clear to me we spent our time in purgatory im swallowing my pride for the last time we're coming back and now it seems so clear to me not gonna let it happen we're twice as strong been looking way to long to long and now
not gonna happen not again
