

Question the Answers

Last Tuesday

Don't let the sun go down on you, dont let any trend tell you what to do

Dont let the fire burn out while you sleep

Dont let self pity run your life dont let the pain and strife in

Dont let the depressing time take away from you, away from your happiness
She said, I know I can be much more if you help me off the floor

She said, I wish you could see that its my destiny

I loved you more than ever before, you are my friend
Run for you life, fight for your rights, dont accept anything

Questions the answers, know you'll never know for sure

Know everythings going to be okay

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>