Four Letter Word

Kim Wilde

I tell ya
It's hell yeah
When love says goodbye, it's a four letter word
Because your heart knows
When love goes
The feeling is bad it's the pits of the world
It's sad but true
When nothing you can do can bring it backStanding in the rain
She starts to cry
When love says goodbye
Is it all a game
She wonders why?
Why it had to start?
Why should it end and take her apart?Because she shows it
She knows it
But what can she do, it's a four letter word
Because it shakes you
It breaks you
And when it's the end, it's the worst thing you heard
It's over now
And nothing you can do can bring it backCalling out his name
She starts to cry
When love says goodbye
Guys are all the same
She wants to die
Hide away the tears
No one will see and no one must hearBut oh
How can the love that she has be profane
And how can something that's so beautiful
Just Jeckyl and Hyde around?
It's so sadWhen love says goodbye
When love says goodbye
Four letter wordI tell ya
It's hell yeah
When love says goodbye, it's a four letter word
Because your heart knows
When love goes
The feeling is bad, it's the worst in the world
It's sad but true

When nothing you can do, can get it backStanding in the rain
She starts to cry
When love says goodbye
Shouting out his name
Four letter wordI tell ya
It's hell yeah
When love goes
When love says goodbye
I tell ya
It's hell yeah
When love says goodbye
When love goes
