

Son My Son

Milo Greene

Son, my son
The weight is unique
One, by one
The words are complete
Your testing is calling
And we are still falling
For keeps
Just remember the weight of your world's
Only resting on meTruth, so true
Slight tendency
For two by two
To be as they meet
Your waltz like repeating
Continues your dreaming
In threes
You will bury that hatchet with and olive branch
Tied to your kneeOnly
Only when you're sleeping
Only
Only when you're sleepingSon, my son
The weight is unique
One, by one
The words are complete
Your testing is calling
And we are still falling
For keeps
Just remember the weight of your world's
Only resting on meOnly
Only when you're sleeping
Only
Only when you're sleepingI will never run
I would never run you away
I will never run
I would never run you away
Son my only son
I will never run you away
I will never run
I will never run you awayI will never run
I will never run

You
Away
