

Stars Fall Down

Three Against Four

On a day like today
Anything could happen
To someone who happens
To be looking

Anyone could have been witness here

Oh
She puts it into reverse
She turns the wheel
She's falling out the door

On a day like today
Stars fall down
And fill the streets with burning light
And echoes in the night

He's flying fast above the land
He locks it in
He's far away
He doesn't hear the sound

I wait an hour on the ground she's on Another hour and she'll be gone

Gone
Gone
Gone
Gone

On a day like today
Anything could happen
To someone who happens
To be there

Anyone could have been
Anyone could have been a witness here

Like me
