

Without Your Blessing

rumHoney

Thereâ€™s nothing you can say
To ever make me stay
You donâ€™t know what youâ€™re missing
The dirty and the cheap
Gonna turn the other cheek
â€˜Cos this ones made for kissing
Iâ€™m happy on my own
I prefer to dine alone
And forget about the broken vision
Itâ€™s too late to change
Iâ€™m out of your range
So I leave without your blessing.

Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave

I think that you will find
There is something on your mind
That you really should be addressing
The last big mistake
I will never let you make,
Is to keep on with your messing
Despite the bad things
And both the broken rings,
You taught me a valuable lesson
I donâ€™t know when
I will ever love again,
So I leave without youâ€™re blessing.

Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave

So Iâ€™m out and on my way
Even though you may wonder
I bury all my fears
And the pain disappears
Happy to paint by numbers

So if you see me down the line
Just remember you were mine
But you let the sand through your fingers
Everything was wrong
And we never did belong
But your memory still lingers.

Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave Without Your Blessing
Leave
