

Little By Little

Bailiff

I donâ€™t defend I donâ€™t symbolize
I donâ€™t pretend that I never helplessly hide.
I donâ€™t believe I donâ€™t realign
I donâ€™t believe though, I now I hopelessly try
I donâ€™t agree I donâ€™t wonder why.
I canâ€™t see through the tears that I never cried.
I donâ€™t deny that I criticize.
I know that I wouldnâ€™t fall unless I rise.
But I give no, no, no protection
When youâ€™re just another beggar in the intersection.
With a cold, cold coin collection
Did you notice my face with same expression as his?
Sometimes it is.
Iâ€™ve been ignored Iâ€™ve been recognized
I canâ€™t afford to pretend that Iâ€™m harmlessly high.
Iâ€™ve been adored, Iâ€™ve been pushed aside.
Iâ€™ve been at war with the words I restlessly write.
I appear to be here but lifeless inside.
Iâ€™ve been adhered, Iâ€™ve been undermined.
Iâ€™ve appeared to be here but lifeless inside
Iâ€™ve been at fear, Iâ€™ve been on the lights.
I disappear on the clear black moonless nights.
But I give no, no, no protection
When youâ€™re just another beggar in the intersection
With a cold, cold coin collection
Did you notice my face with same expression?
Cause thereâ€™s no, no, no protection
When youâ€™re just another beggar in the intersection
With a cold cold coin collection
Did you notice my face with same expression?
Itâ€™s a little, a little, a little
So save me from my city, the city, the city
Cause now itâ€™s just a pity, a pity, a pity
Make me change my mindâ€™

Lyrics submitted by kavitha ramaswa.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>