

Stay On the Bright Side

Red Wanting Blue

Start over, I can't make sense of this
You mumble your words when you don't want to hurt feelings
Calm down caged bird get to the heart of it Life's not what you thought I'd be
Tell me when it ever really is Oh, why are we strangers on the same side?
Where best friends and lovers collide
I'm never saying never again What we have in common
Is we don't like gray clouds around
They only ever bring us down
The deeper the doubt, the harder it rains
What we have in common
Is we don't want our colors to fade
It's lights out for all of us someday
Let's stay on the bright side of things, ok We've shared the same set of eyes for so long
I can't even see myself
Without you looking back through me
You're the best thing that's ever happened to me
However the brighter the feather, the harder it's to set free. Oh, why are we strangers on the same side?
Where best friends and lovers divide
You're never saying never again What we have in common
Is we don't like gray clouds around
They only ever bring us down
The deeper the doubt, the harder it rains
What we have in common
Is we don't want our colors to fade
It's lights out for all of us someday
Let's stay on the bright side of things, ok ok Oh, why are we strangers on the same side?
Where best friends and lovers collide
We're never saying never again What we have in common
Is we don't like gray clouds around
They only ever bring us down
The deeper the doubt, the harder it rains
What we have in common
Is we don't want our colors to fade
It's lights out for all of us someday
Let's stay on the bright side of things, ok
Let's stay on the bright side of things, my love
Let's stay on the bright side of things, ok

ok
ok
