

Spirit of Shiloh

Project 86

I wake to silence
On this frozen battlefield
Strike my legs to see if I still feel
I see a light it's calling me to run
There's nothing left here so I press on with my gun One last climb
One last step to
Lay it all on the line
One last flight
One last height to
Lay it all on the line
To leave it all behind
I crush my brother's bones beneath my feet
I wade through cannon fire on this haunted street
I can't recall where did I come from?
I know the answer is in the darkness of the sun One last climb
One last step to
Lay it all on the line
One last flight
One last height to
Lay it all on the line
To leave it all behind My truth is tied to you
Defining all I am
All I was
And all I will become
Life is death and everything this is to me
I beg you to let me see
One last climb
One last step to
Lay it all on the line
One last flight
One last height to
Lay it all on the line
To leave it all behind I beg you to let me see
I beg you to let me see what awaits me
