When Will I See You

Danko Jones

When will I see you again?
(Again)
It's a question I ask all the time
(Time)
It's now the last time till the end
(End)
All I need is, all I need is
All I need is, all I need is
All I need to see is a signIt's starting to wear me down
Little by little
Feeling like a sick dog
Everything's gone wrongTell me what it takes
To make it like yesterday
One thing that is true
I'll be waitingIf I only knew what was right
I'd do it in a second to calm down
Oh baby, when day falls to night
My heart always ends up on the groundWhen will I see you again?
It's a question I ask all the time
It's now the last time till the end
All I need to see is a signEvery night, spent alone
Nothing gets easy, no one comes home
It's simple when you say, I've accepted what's come to me
Tell me what it takes, I'll be waitin'If I only knew what was right
(What was right)
I'd do it in a second to calm down
(Calm down)
Oh baby, when day falls to night
(To night)
My heart always ends up on the groundWhen will I see you again?
(When will I see you again?)
It's a question I ask all the time
(All the time)
It's now the last time till the end
(Till the end)
All I need to see is a signA sign, a sign, a sign, a sign, a signIf I only knew what was right
I'd do it in a second to calm down
Oh baby, when day falls to night
My heart always ends up on the groundWhen will I see you again?

It's a question I ask all the time
(Time, time)
It's now the last time till the end
(Till the end)
My heart always ends up on the ground
(On the ground)When will I see you again?
(When will I see you again?)
It's a question I ask all the time
(Time, time)
It's now the last time till the end
(Till the end)
All I need to see is a sign

Lyrics provided by
https://damnlyrics.com/