

Midguided Thought

RPWL

Some keep on learning
Try to understand
And bring the rain into the dryness
Some keep on burning
For the truth in their hands
Like a new light blinds the darkness
Some are believers
Close their hearts and close their eyes
For the truth that's waiting outside
Some keep in sleeping
They don't hear the tolling bells
They come and try to break this world apart
In the name of the lord we can burn down the world
Who's to blame when we all stay in a kingdom never come?
It's the rise and the fall of a world that was brought by the baser human Needs and a misguided thought
Some are deceiving
Sowing grief over the land
And they are not to be outdone
Some are the dreamers
They gently open heart and mind
To see that truth is just a breath away
In the name of the lord we can burn down the world
Who's to blame when we all stay in a kingdom never come?
It's the rise and the fall of a world that was brought by the baser human Needs and a misguided thought
We're still concealing
That the concept of one god is the ruin of all wisdom
So keep on breathing
Try to keep your thoughts alive
Don't let the try break this world apart
In the name of the lord we can burn down the world
Who's to blame when we all stay in a kingdom never come
It's the rise and the fall of a world that was brought by the baser human
Needs and a misguided thought
