

It Ain't Pretty

Lady Antebellum

Had a feeling I was feeling alright
But it just happened to be Saturday night
I put my lipstick on a little too bright
Then took a deep breath and started to drive
They let me in without a cover charge
Found my way to the back of the bar
Peeled the corners off a cocktail napkin
Watching everybody smiling, laughing
I just bought a drink
Downtown all alone
Searching through the names
Getting lost in my cell phone
It ain't pretty, it ain't pretty
When a heart breaks
Made my way to the bathroom mirror
Standing next to some girl spilling beer
She didn't notice I was drying my tears
Just look at me now, God how'd I get here

Cause I just kissed a boy
And I barely even knew his name
I let him take me by the hand
Hold me close while our old song played
It ain't pretty, it ain't pretty
When a heart breaks
I almost dialed your number
To remind you what you did
But I think it might be better
To just let this night end
So I just called a cab
Outside it's starting to rain
I got my high heels in my hand
Oh I'm ready for the walk of shame
It ain't pretty, it ain't pretty, it ain't pretty
When a heart breaks
I just bought a drink, it ain't pretty
I just kissed a boy, it ain't pretty
I just called a cab
