

Drown Into Eternal Twilight

Xasthur

Who they are, who they once were is what they fear

(Murdered by those they hold near)

In a new age without a planet to rebuild

The end of the earth served as my rebirth

It will fall to pieces

Yet some await that dawn

Falling of a weak empire that stood too long

So be the voice of death to haunt me

They'll open their window and they won't see their world anymore.
