Harmony

Doyle Bramhall II

You call me crying
You call me crying
And time just stopped
My heart can't beat when you're unhappy
I want you to know
Even when I'm gone
I keep you with me, yes I do
I'd do anything to take that pain,
And hear you laughing
HarmonySome day you'll see things the way they really are
But now it's time for your sweet eyes to be softly dreaming
From my old heart to your little soul
You're the best thing I've ever known
You deserve more
I was so low
And I'd known that nothing was right, yeah
Even the lie I made myself was over
So if you're lonely
And feeling unsure
Know that I love you, oh I love you
And even when we're apart,
I still hear you laughing
HarmonyYou'll understand in a little while
I want your heart to be free
Then dream about what makes you happy
So from my love to your little soul
You're the best thing I've ever known
My love, you're always with me
Know you'll always be
Always, forever, my love
You're my little soul, child
My love, you're always with me
This whole world, in this whole world
Always, forever, my love
You're the best thing I've ever known
