Skin

The Beasts Of Eden

We made ourselves at home
Out of our dreams
Brought with us this love now bittersweet
And maybe I could say now that I always thought of you
Are you wrong to walk with me your whole life through?
And I know, we go deep within skin
But what lies within,
Is still deep within, we know
And for all this pandemime,
You should see the state of me, yeah
I couldn't heal myself with time, alone
I have you tattooed on my skin.
This house is full of stories we both told
These rooms the very stage where they'd unfold
These walls they whisper secrets,

And memories they love
But this door no longer leads us to their love
Yeah, I know, we go deep within skin
But what lies within,
Is still deep within, we know
And for all this pandemime,
You should see the state of me, yeah
I couldn't heal myself with time, alone
I have you tattooed on my skin.
All I ever wanted was to hold you
What can I do now to make things new?
I ain't trying to right your will to a song,
Cause you're too sacred and I would be wrong
But when irony life holds,
I was finally ready to meet you half way
You turned and walked away

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/