

Gates of Dawn

Heartless Bastards

I have awoken
The spell it has been broken
Went through the cold, cold wind of the eastern snow Oh, there was a silence comfortable
There is nothing left to say, to say Oh, we opened up the gates of dawn
Oh yeah, through the gates of dawn
Oh, what the heat that living size
Oh yeah, straight into the sun I have awoken
The footsteps sound of thunder
I'm such a heavy load
Seven years of slumber Oh, there was a silence comfortable
There is nothing left to say, to say Oh, we opened up the gates of dawn
Oh yeah, through the gates of dawn
Oh, what the heat that living size
Oh yeah, straight into the sun I go out to the sun
And I go on
Sky meets a city
[?] volcano
And I go down
Sky meets a city
Oh I, made it to the sun
Oh I, made it to the sun
Oh, underneath the million skies
Oh I, made it to the sun
