Me and You

Corrected Visionaries

Baby, you're a changer
Yeah, a shadow king
On the edge of danger
Always testing everythingWalking on a tightrope
Up without a net
Looking for the downslope
(But you) 'Haven't found it yetWhen you tire of the fire and the constant heat
That burn you through and through
I don't know why you'd try anybody else
It should be me and youWhen you tire of the fire and the constant heat
You know what you should do
I don't know why you'd try anybody else
It should be me and youMaybe you're not ready
You've got more to see
I'll be holding steady
It doesn't bother me'Cause I know that one day
You are going to find
That you'll see things my way
When you're not so blindWhen you tire of the fire and the constant heat
That burn you through and through
I don't know why you'd try anybody else
It should be me and youWhen you tire of the fire and the constant heat
You know what you should do
I don't know why you'd try anybody else
It should be me and youIt should be me
You know it's me
It should be me and you
