Jumpship (live)

Caroline's Spine

I spend alot of time wishing I was someone else and I wish I could face the world that presents itself, but when I feel my heartbeat slowly fade away and I see no reason to stay I jumpship.
You spend alot of time wishing you were in love with someone else
'cause when your lover does you wrong
you place the blame on yourself how you gonna fly with a wheel chained to the ground?
When I see no reason to hang around I jumpship.
We spend alot of time wishing we had grown up somewhere else
because our mommys and daddys were not always mums and daddys themselves.
How you gonna walk,
how you gonna talk?
Like hell we're gonna learn to jumpship
