Violation Domain

Benediction

Crawl on our knees through the gutter from an untimely demise
By remission of all sins, forsaking old and wiseViolation of domainAn area of conquest which only we have one
Don't stagnate within your self, transcend the RubiconSuffering, torment, anguish, painAt life's shore, slowly breaks the waves
Turn of the tides, revenance of rageBlistering, so were the thoughts when shackled to a wall
Flagrant ways of conformation, your death sentence, appalled
Now plead for a worthless life, deny us all your guilt
Escape within the stony tomb which you yourself have builtIndependence of a drug to satisfy the need
Orgies filled with travesty to sow all mocking seeds
Originality, the one who's screaming at the crime
Sinister, the ways of wisdom, expand or face the fireSterile splinter of self doubt, thorn in your bony hide
Counterfeit within adept, colossal is the pride
Breeding cynicism, grandeur crying in your face
Overture, derisive laughter, hateful human raceIncantation of your thoughts upon this mortal coil
Open wide, the jaws of hate, serving them, so loyal
Reeking contradiction when you're laughing as you fail
Believing in your innocence tells a sorrowed taleAutumn, fall upon a life, this season,at an end
Darkened shadows all around and yet without a friend
Realization dawns on you, it's time for you to face
Hateful human race
