Sascha

Jolie Holland

Tonight, my heart is full of a sad song
My lonesome lover has taken off
I'm wanderin' around on a cloud
Empty-hearted and down and outIt's been a week, I think, since he rolled into town
And it's been years that I've heard these stories about
This fellow, he's so brave and so alive
Turnin' this world around from the out to the insideWell, our courtship was brief and magnetic
I was singin' at the corner bar
And we both felt so romantic
We took a walk with the moon down to the train yardWell, it was too much for me
My gypsy heart was inflamed
Put me at the head of your list
And don't forget to call my name
Well, I've fell in love with a boy
Who has a real live romance with a train, ohOh, my beautiful lover and friend
This is exactly what I wanted
And now I'm feelin' so haunted
And I can't get you out of my mind, ohI can't forget him as he's rollin' away
And it's all I can do is just to stay here
Is just to stay
