Lights Out

Breaking Benjamin

I am done pretending
You have failed to find what's left
I will suck you dry again
Some are not worth saving
You are such a pretty mess

I will choke the life withinNow you want to take me down

As if I even care

I am the monster in your head And I thought you'd learn by now It seems you haven't yet

I am the venom in your skinAnd now your life is brokenAfter the lights go out on you After your worthless life is through

I will remember how you scream

I can't afford to care, I can't afford to careI am suffocating, you have failed to pull me in I will drag you down again

Life is unrelenting, feeding lies into my head I will feed the lies you liveNow you want to take me down

As if I even care

I am the monster in your head And I thought you'd learn by now It seems you haven't yet

I am the venom in your skinAnd now your life is brokenAfter the lights go out on you After your worthless life is through

I will remember how you scream

I can't afford to care, I can't afford to careAfter the lights go out on you

After your worthless life is through

I will remember how you scream

I can't afford to care, I can't afford to care

I can't afford to care, I can't afford to care
