

Blown Like The Wind At Night

Serena Ryder

Let's get drunk
And lets pretend
We are not slaves to anything
Or anyone who tells us how to be We're simply witness to the war
Participating on the living room floor
And eating up our television dreams I hope to god you haven't seen the last part of the best of me
Oh tell me this is gonna be alright Blown like the wind at night,
But I ain't shakin'
Stone blind, water rise,
Patience, patience I told you once, I told you twice
Have you no ears, have you no eyes?
If this is love, what is hate?
Do you understand my faith
Oh im not broken you can't fix me
Wish I had a man to miss me
Tell me everything will be alright Blown like the wind at night,
But I ain't shakin'
Stone blind, water rise,
Patience, patience Blown like the wind at night,
But I ain't shakin'
Stone blind, water rise,
Patience, patience Oh I'm blown like the wind at night
But I ain't shakin'
Stone blind, water rise,
Patience, patience

Songwriters

RYDER, SERENA LAUREN / O'BRIEN, JEEN Published by

Lyrics Â© Universal Music Publishing Group Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>