A Place Only You Can Go

NEEDTOBREATHE

Pain is alive in a broken heart
The past never does go away
We were born to love
And we're born to pay the price for our mistakes
Grace, she comes with a heavy load
Memories, they can't be erased
Like a pill I swallow, it makes me well
But leaves an awful tasteOh, I know this song won't do
Enough to prove my love to you
In my heart you'll always know
There is a place only love can go
There is a place only you can goTake my notions and words to heart
This is the cry of a man
I can't bring you fortune or a noble life
But I'll love you all I canOh, I know this song won't do
Enough to prove my love to you
In my heart you'll always know
There is a place only you can go
Oh, I know this song won't do
Enough to prove my love to you
In my heart you'll always know
There is a place only love can go
There is a place only you can go
