If Not Now

Stavesacre

i guess they finally turned you i heard it in your voicewith each you lose the choice... seasons pass within that grasp'cause after all of this you're still aloneand after everything you're still on your ownand i know what they'll say -you'll have to free yourself againif not now, then when?with all this talk of choosingyou'll find your way, you'll find your place i choose to believe in you i pray you'll find it soonfree yourself again...if not now, then when?
