

It Hurts

Dirty Loops

It hurts

Your face is like a glimpse of paradise

You got the moon and stars within your eyes

Your touch is soothing like a summer ray

To let it go to waste would be a shame

If I could find one spark in me that flies

But there's no remedy for liesIt hurts, there's nothing I can do

It hurts, to lose my trust in you

It hurts, making it hard to breath

But no relief this pain, gets worse, it hurtsMy love is like a knife it cuts both ways

I'm stuck between a rock and one hard place

Should sing my heart still in this house we've built

That soon will fall apart because of guilt

I know it's time to face the truth, move on

I'd be afraid to lose what's goneIt hurts, there's nothing I can do

It hurts, to lose my trust in you

It hurts, making it hard to breath

But no relief this pain, gets worse, it hurts
