

Kiss Me Fool

Fefe Dobson

Tell me who should I be to make you love me?
Tell me what does it mean to be alone?
Cant you see me standing, staring, out from a distance
Hear my cry if youd only listen, out of focus into me and you
Kiss me fool if you care, if your words have better meaning
Playing it cool is so unfair and why this veil of secrecy?
God forbid, friends found out what we did
And why cant some like you be with someone like me?
Tell me who should I be to make you love me?
Tell me what does it mean to be alone?
Cant you see me standing staring out from a distance
Hear my cry if youd only listen, out of focus into me and you Touch me fool if youre allowed, Ill be dancing in the corner
Its so cruel to play it proud, take your hands and cover me
Im aware that all in love is fair, but thats no reason
To make me feel this way
Tell me who should I be to make you love me?
Tell me what does it mean to be alone?
Cant you see me standing, staring out from a distance
Hear my cry if youd only listen out of focus into me and you
And that hurts me so bad to deny it
These feelings are out of control
Do you know what its like to want something so bad?
And than having to let it go
And it hurts me to know that this time in our lives
So soon will be in the past
And this game of pretending and playing it cool, never knowing Never knowing, never knowing what, what we should have had
Tell me who should I be to make you love me?
Tell me what does it mean to be alone?
You've go me wondering if Im good enough
Pretty enough, giving enough, special enough?
Tell me who should I be to make you love me?
Who should I be? Who should I be oh, oh? To make you love me
Who should I be? Who should I be oh, oh? To make you love me
Who should I be? Who should I be oh, oh? To make you love me
Who should I be? Who should I be oh, oh? To make you love me
Who should I be? Who should I be oh, oh?
