Love Is

Nadine Coyle

Yeah, oh, oh
Yeah, yeah
Once there was a time, love was just a myth
It just wasn't for real, it didn't exist
Until the day you came into my life
It forced me to think twice
I didn't have too much, no I wasn't rich
You made me believe someday, I'd be more than this That's why until this day I'm still your man
'Cause you made me understand
Love is, kisses in a bean bag chair
The two of us with no one there
Love is, the moment that I climb the stairs
To hold you in my arms after we made love
Love is, waking up to see your face
Or kissing in the morning rain
The only thing that keeps me sane
At the end of the day is that I've got you
You're my secret place, where I can be myself
You connect with me, like nobody else
Even though our circumstances changed
Our love still remains
Keep me on the ground, still you help me fly
You taught me to be patient, I taught you to rely
So, no matter what tomorrow brings
We got the simple things 'cause
Love is, kisses in a bean bag chair
The two of us with no one there
Love is, the moment that I climb the stairs
To hold you in my arms after we made love
Love is, waking up to see your face
Or kissing in the morning rain
The only thing that keeps me sane
Is at the end of the day I've got you
Love is, a Sunday morning with the blanket
Wrapped around your waist
Love is, the way your lips seems to curve
When you say my name
Love is

And when I'm stressing like
The world's turnin' upside down
Girl, it all makes sense when you're around
Love is, kisses in a bean bag chair
The two of us with no one there
Love is, the moment that I climb the stairs
To hold you in my arms after we made love
Love is, waking up to see your face
Or kissing in the morning rain
The only thing that keeps me sane
Is at the end of the day I've got you
Love is, kisses in a bean bag chair
The two of us with no one there
Love is, the moment that I climb the stairs
To hold you in my arms after we made love
Love is, waking up to see your face
Or kissing in the morning rain
The only thing that keeps me sane
Is at the end of the day I've got you

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/