Waiting All My Life

Rascal Flatts

Everybody needs it, everybody wants it
Everybody's searching for someone
Been down a thousand highways
I never thought would end
Baby, I've beenWaiting all my life to find you
Always been one step behind you
Your love babe, I've been waiting all my lifeI was tired of waiting, every night was praying
Everyday would be the day I'd find you
I grew so impatient, how long would it take
To know you were out there somewhere?
Somewhere waiting, wondering just like meI've been waiting all my life to love you
All that time I was dreaming of you
Your love babe, I've been waiting all my lifeAnd did I lose faith, or did I lose heart?
Maybe I did, but I never lost my way
To where you are, I've beenWaiting all my life to find you
Always been one step behind you
Your love babe, I've been waiting all my lifeI've been waiting all my life to love you
All that time I was dreaming of you
Your love babe, I've been waiting
Your love I've been waiting
Your love I've been waiting all my life
All my life, all my life
