You Know You're Home

Tim Hicks

When you see that beat up exit sign
Just down the hill from the railway line
Yeah, that's right

And if there ain't no cops and you time it right
You can make it through one, two, three green lights
Yeah, alright

In the summertime, the same old swimming hole
Just dive on in as deep as you can goYou know you're home

You know you're home It's a feeling deep inside your bones Some things change, most things don't

You know you're home

When the sun goes down and the wind's just right It'll take you back to that Friday night

Hmm, we were seventeen

And that carnival came every June

And I kissed her underneath that moon

Yeah, what a sceneNo matter where you've been my friend

Around the world and back again

It's only just a heartbeat down the roadYou know you're home

You know you're home

There's a feeling deep inside your bones

Some things change, most things don't

You know you're home When you feel the arms around you

And you're walking through the door

It's all you've ever needed

And you don't need nothing more

You know you're home

You know you're home

There's a feeling deep inside your bones

Yeah, you're home

You know you're home

There's a feeling deep inside your soul

Some things change, most things don't

You know you're home

Yeah some things change, most things don't

You know you're home

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/