

Light Years Will Burn

Ozma

light years will burn 'fore i return i left it all behind with no concern for things back then can't be again forever trapped in time that never bends she waits for signals i might send but they don't come so she pretends i ran away but i'll be back yesterdayno turning back once you're lost you never will be found no gravity
never get my feet back on the groundlove and escape do not computei see the photograph before you shooti'm standing still but still i'm spinning this journey ends at the beginning it seals my fate in the great figure eightno turning back once you're lost you never will be found
no gravity
never get my feet back on the ground no turning back once you're lost you never can be found
no gravity
never get my feet back on good ground
