

Twenty Below (Demo Version)

Hidden in Plain View

This puzzled look you stare to me says
"You put me back together"
Her head's down, she waits impatiently
Scattered in my heart, torn up and ripped apart
It's ripped apart..And I know, I should have known
By the times she looked at me
Brace yourself
Strength finds a place in me Just wait and you'll see you're everything I want
And don't take this from me
Just wait and you'll see you're everything I want
Don't take this from me now With the wind strong in my face, I'm still staggering through
I'm closer to the ground than I will ever get to you
Dirt deep beneath my fingernails, I'm gripping to the floor
I'm searching through the world, always looking for something more Just wait and you'll see you're everything I want
And don't take this from me
Just wait and you'll see you're everything I want
Don't take this from me now And these cold winter nights, without you next to me
It feels like twenty below
Frostbite on my heart
This pain and suffering are feelings that you don't know Does it feel like, feel like twenty below

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnyrics.com/>