

Twilight

Stella Soleil

Sugar girl, worked at the dollar store
She worked her tail right off
She had these bright blue eyes
She dreamed in staggering size One day a big black car
Big man with a big fat cigar
Looking for aspirin
All night with woman and gin He said, Baby what's your name
Nothing that can't be changed
Baby what's your age
Oh, don't you ever say She said, As ever the sun as ever the moon
You put it together I am twilight
As ever I'm black, as ever I'm white
You put me together I am twilight Hey, you're a beautiful girl
Don't you know I rule the world
I can make you a star
I can take you real far That camera's for making love
You smile and don't say a word
I'll be the one that talks
You be the one that walks And shake those curvy hips
Kiss with those cherry lips
You've got a very sexy way
Sugar girl is your new name She said, As ever the sun as ever the moon
You put it together I am twilight
As ever I'm black, as ever I'm white
You put me together I am twilight She lit up from the whole ride
Through the photographs she lit up She's the face of the day
She's known for being that way
Every man wants a part
It's what all women want Sugar girl, you're a diva
The press would really like to know
Do you adore yourself
Like all the rest of us do? She said, As ever the sun as ever the moon
You put it together I am twilight
As ever I'm black, as ever I'm white
You put me together I am twilight As ever I'm dark, as ever I'm white
You put me together I am twilight
I am twilight, I am twilight
