Burning

Project Pitchfork

As the night ate the sky
(...)
A million years filled with tears
We waited for so long
And every single dream (...)
But now we're waiting in a cue
Just to fall from grace
But when you look into your eyes
You will feel the yearning tooOh I'm longing for the day
When darkness fades away
I want to be with you
Where all hope has gone toThe devil in the skies
Was with us and closed our eyes
We won the fight
A battle still ahead
We braced our freedom
When we kissed the dragon's head
A million souls (...)
When I listen to my eyes
I hear this yearning tooOh I'm longing for the day
When darkness fades away
Oh I want to be with you
Where all hope has gone toWe killed a million souls for you
Just to watch them burning
And as I listen to her song
I join in grieving tooOh I'm longing for the day when darkness fades away
I want to be with you
Where all our dreams come true
I am longing for the day when darkness fades away
I want to be with you
Where all our dreams come true
