

(The Symphony Of) BlasÃ©

Anberlin

Are there no shadows where you are?
i can see everything is day problems that you try to hide away, you're pushing me aside, you're pushing me aside.

could the winter calm come twice could your heart seem so cold tonight there's no substance, somehow isn't right its killing me inside, its killing you inside, killing me inside

i dont want to be where you are,
i dont want to be here even now i dont want to be by your side something isnt right, something isnt right

this is our last goodnight say what you will say all that you can, words have no meaning when ive seen where you've been
this is our last goodnight
say all that you can, this is our last good bye this is where love ends i assume i have to right it wrong how could you watch innocences forgone does what we've done ever really belong you're wasting me away, i feel so wasted away, god if you could hear me out alright please take these feelings for her inside my chest hurts when i breathe tonight its wasting me away, there wasting me away, i feel so wasted away

i dont want to be where you are,
this is our last (this is our last) this is our last goodnight say what you will, say all that you can words have no meaning when ive seen where you've been

this is our last goodbye (this is our last) this is where love ends
    this is our last goodnight,
this is our last goodbye, this is where love ends
