Hold On

Marie Hines

Morning, darling how'd you sleep
I've been waiting patiently
For the road to bring you homeTake your time and take your rest
Take your place here on my chest
We'll watch the day roll on
Until the light is goneYou're my quiet sip of wine
Midnight walk in the rain
You're the writing on the wall
When you whisper my name
So I hold onMorning, lovely how'd you sleep
Finally it's just you and me
While we watch the day rollTook my time and caught my breath
I can say with no reget
Sure as the road was long
I'm right where I belongYou're my fire, my desire
You're my moment of truth
Every answer, every question
Leads me on home to you
So I hold onHold on
Hold on
Hold on
Hold onYou're my quiet sip of wine
You're my moment of truth
Oh the writing on the wall
Leads me on home to you
So we hold onYou're my fire, my desire
You're my moment of truth
Every answer, every question
Leads me on home to you
So we hold on
