

In the Basement (feat. Kelly Clarkson)

Martina McBride

Oh now tell me where can you party, child, all night long?
In the basement, down in the basement,
Oh where can you go when your money gets low?
In the basement, down in the basement
And if a storm is taking place, you can jam and still be safe
In the basement, down in the basement, Where can you dance to any music you choose?
In the basement, down in the basement
Oh, you got the comforts of home, a nightclub too.
In the basement, down in the basement.
There's no cover charge or fee and the food and drinks are free,
In the basement, down in the basement Where they don't check your age at the door,
In the basement, down in the basement
Barracuda and Jack til your feet get sore
In the basement, down in the basement
Do any dance you want to do, there's no one under you
In the basement, down in the basement In the basement, that's where it's at
In the basement, in the basement

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>