Crashes Down

Truth Before Treason

I feel the gun against my head
You took the world right from my hands
And as I walk this endless road
There can be no end in sight

Surrender your soul unto me
I will end your helpless plea
Surrender your life unto me

(Chorus) And as I fall in the abyss
I have time to reminisce
While the world around me crashes down (crashes down)
Though I live eternally
Time could never set me free
While the world around me crashes down

I feel the pleasure of sin (of sin)
I feel the need to give in to this
How could I just surrender myself into this abyss?
I need some time to think of how somehow I could just deal with this shit

Surrender your soul unto me
I will end your helpless plea
Surrender your life unto me

(Chorus)

I thought I had come to my senses
I thought that life needed a change
Maybe I was wrong - I had to throw it all away...
