Hallelujah

The Haunted Windchimes

There's a man upstairs
And he's been everywhere
Thinking circles
in his rocking chair
And he walks in his sleep
To the light down the street
He's lost his mind
And he dont know where

He thinks it's just a light
But in his own sight
(I have no clue... Help me out!!)
You'll try to call his name
But he doesn't hear a thing
Only the sounds of angels singing
Hallelujah
Hallelujah
You'll try to call his name
But he doesn't hear a thing
Only the sounds of angels singing

There's a woman down below
And she feels the heavy glow
Of the moon and the song its softly singing
When she walks in her sleep
To the light down the street
Giving her a
Florescent feeling

SHe thinks it's just a light
But in her own sight
(I have no clue... Help me out!!)
You'll try to call her name
But she doesn't hear a thing
Only the sounds of angels singing
Hallelujah
Hallelujah
You'll try to call her name

But she doesn't hear a thing
Only the sounds of angels singing

There's a kid down the street
Shuffling his feet
He doesn't think that anyone can see him
But theight up above
Doesn't miss anyone
There just waiting for Him to stop and see em

He thinks it's just a light
But in his own sight
(I have no clue... Help me out!!)
You'll try to call his name
But he doesn't hear a thing
Only the sounds of angels singing
Hallelujah
Hallelujah
Hallelujah
You'll try to call his name
But he doesn't hear a thing
Only the sounds of angels singing

Lyrics Submitted by Chuck Mazik

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/