

Breathing

Duncan James

Did I die today?
'Cause I can't tell and I can't feel
Nothing seems real
Saw you cry today
And deep inside subconscious mind
There's another way
So believe, trust in me, I'm alive
I'm breathing and I'm learning to survive
And I'm finding the way
Since you brought me back to life
Please don't walk away
Promise me you'll stay
Now I'm breathing
I'm alive today, oh
And I can tell and I can feel
Everything is real
No more tears today
And deep inside my conscious mind
We found a perfect way
You can see, trust in me and we'll fly
I'm breathing and I'm learning to survive
And I'm finding the way
Since you brought me back to life
Please don't walk away
Promise me you'll stay
Now I'm breathing
Now I'm breathing, I'm breathing
So long I've played your game
I'm sick and tired of always being led
You really turned my head
You really turned my head
Strange to fall for jealousy
Another love struck fool
Ooh, maybe I was blind, blind
I'm breathing and I'm learning to survive
And I'm finding the way
Since you brought me back to life
Please don't walk away
Promise me you'll stay

Now I'm breathing
So long I've played your game
I'm sick and tired of always being led
You really turned my head
You really turned my head
You really turned my head
