These Dreams

Lani Misalucha

Once we were lovers but somehow things have changed
Now we're just lonely people tryin' to forget each other's names
Now we're just lonely people tryin' to forget each other's names
What came between us? Maybe we were just too young to know
But now and then I feel the same
And sometimes at night I think, I hear you calling my name
Mmm, these dreams, they keep me going these days
Once we were lovers but that was long ago
We lived together then and now we do not even say hello
We lived together then and now we do not even say hello
What came between us? Maybe we were just too young to know
But now and then I feel the same
And sometimes at night I think I hear you calling my name
Mmm, these dreams, they keep me going these days
What came between us? Maybe we were just too young to know
Now and then I feel the same
And sometimes at night I think I hear you calling my name
Mmm, these dreams, keep me going these days
