Thick Skin

Leona Lewis

You can say anything you wanna say
Hit me, but I'm gonna love you anyway
If you didn't have a wall to hide behind
But you fell to pieces when your eyes were mine

You can throw your daggers, you can sink 'em in
It don't matter, I got thick skin
You can knock me down, but I'll get up again
Cause I'm stronger than your bruises, I got thick skin
Cause I'm stronger than your bruises, I got thick skin

Every time you find another stone to throw
I will pick it up and start to build a wall
Keep up with me ...
And you were only adding my castle

You can throw your daggers, you can sink 'em in
It don't matter, I got thick skin
You can knock me down, but I'll get up again
Cause I'm stronger than your bruises, I got thick skin

You can throw your daggers, you can sink 'em in
It don't matter, I got thick skin
You can knock me down, but I'll get up again
Stronger than your bruises, I got thick skin
Stronger than your bruises, I got thick skin
Stronger than your bruises, I got thick skin
