So Cold

Down With Webster

Pat:
You're so cold.
Whatever you do you're laying misery upon me.
Let me be, be, be, be.
x2
Bucky:
It feels like it's winter when I'm with you,
And there ain't no other seasons.
Rain of the ice queen.
Snowfall, freezing.
Still the way you work,
It's got me working on the weekend.
I was treading water,
Now I'm frozen in the deep end.
You thaw me out when you're lonely on a Friday.
Looking at my profile,
Coming at me sideways.
Used to have my back,
Now I get the cold shoulder.
You was hot as hell,
Until hell froze over.
Pat:
You're so cold.
Whatever you do you're laying misery upon me.
Let me be, be, be, be.
x2
Cam:
Wait a minute,
Hold up.
Second time,
Let me get this right.
I came to live my life tonight,
You only live to fight.
Well I'm not leaving with you,
I'm just leaving outright.

This is no duet,
Cause me and you could never sound right
My business is booming now,

But I'm looking to downsize.
Every night I look at you,
And all I see are downsides.
But still your name's coming up,
And I wish I didn't give a fk.
You know that I never thought that it would be this way.
You're hoping that I freeze when I see your face.
x2
You're so cold.
Whatever you do you're laying misery upon me.
Let me be, be, be, be.
I'm going down, down, with you,
Down, down, down, with you,
Down, down, down, with you, down.
Whatever you do I'm going...
x3
Let me be, be, be, be.
You know that I never thought that it would be this way.
You're hoping that I freeze when I see your face.
x2
I'm going down, down, with you,
Down, down, down, with you,
Down, down, down, with you, down.
Whatever you do I'm going...
x2
Let me be, be, be, be.
You're so cold.
Whatever you do you're laying misery upon me.
Let me be, be, be, be.
x2
