Carolina Morning

Micky & The Motorcars

Written by Pinto BennettGirl when I left you my poor old heart was breaking
Because I know your love for me is right
But the sun will rise on you in Carolina
And itll set on me in Tennessee tonightIve had Carolina mornings and California nights
Good times and places in between
Im bound to be alright
But it feels so good that its understood
Ill show up without a warning
And Ill love you on a Carolina morningTomorrow Ill leave for California
After that I might go home to Idaho
But the sun will rise on you in Carolina
Yeah and where it sets on me I just dont knowIve had Carolina mornings, California nights
Good times and places in between
Im bound to be alright
But it feels so good that its understood
Ill show up without a warning
And Ill love you on a Carolina morningYeah, well maybe you can visit me in Nashville
Check out Music Row and Opryland and get to know my friends
But more than likely Ill just show up without a warning
And Ill love you on a Carolina morningIve had Carolina mornings, California nights
Good times and places in between
Im bound to be alright
But it feels so good that its understood
Ill show up without a warning
And Ill love you on a Carolina morningYeah more than likely Ill just show up without a warning
And Ill love you on a Carolina morning
