Free Me

Jay Smith

I didn't ask you to take me from here I didn't ask to be broken I didn't ask you to stroke my hair you treat me like a worthless token but my skin is thick and my mind is strong I am build like my father was I done nothing wrong
so free me
I just wanna feel what life should be I just want enough space to turn around and face the truth
so free me

when do you gonna realize you're just wrong you can't even think for yourself you can't even make up your minds so my mind's a jail I hate the whole goddamn human race what the hell do you want from me kill me if you just don't know or free me
I just wanna feel what life should be
I just want enough space to turn around 'cause you're all fucked some day maybe you'll treat me like you
